Love that never fades: Jesus, our first love

Reordering Project

I was asked by a member of our church the other day about the progress on our reordering project.

There was a flurry of activity quite a few months ago with consultations, plans being drawn up and meetings, but you'd be forgiven for thinking that the whole project had disappeared like morning mist.

Rest assured that in the background things are happening, and we hope to have some progress soon. As you can imagine there are a lot of formalities to be addressed before we can make a formal application to the DAC (Diocesan Advisory Committee) and County Council. Ours is a fairly unusual proposal which also makes people a little more cautious than usual.

We also need to know what is possible and to refine the project before we can start costing it and a lot of those opinions lie with people outside of our direct control. We will let you know where we are as soon as we get a firm response from the Registrar (Diocesan legal bloke), the DAC and a couple of others.

If you would like to know more please do have a chat with Andy Ewens after the service and I'm sure he will happily update you, although probably not much more than I have said here.

On another note:

Thank you to those who shared last weekend on their experiences of New Wine, Denmark and Renew. I loved the honesty, enthusiasm and recollections of good times with God.
